STORYBOARD RECOUNTS

On Thursday the 6th July, 2019, our school joined Corndale, Whian and Upper Cooper's Creek for a very good reason indeed. We were going to meet an author, a FAMOUS author! The reason for this was because it was the Byron bay writers festival.

Year k-3 were lucky and went with Zanni Louise (the visiting author) for the first session, so years 4-6 did some different literacy tasks. The first thing I did was draw 2 random nonliving objects, then I had to write 3 lies about each of them. The next thing we did (still using the same objects) was writing a conversation between the 2 objects. Then to finish off we had to pretend they were our pets and write about them.

Finally it was the year 4-6's turn to go see Zanni. First thing we did was write whatever we wanted in a exercise book that we were given to keep. We only had 2 minutes or so to do that. The next part of it was drawing a character and writing about their appearance and characteristics. The last thing we did before we ran out of time was to write a story about our character, but we didn't really have enough time to do this either, and I had writers block. ☹️ I really liked sitting in the little tipis that were set out.

Yesterday we went to Corndale to do the writers festival. Three other schools arrived there too. It was fun meeting the author. I also liked writing in a book that we were given. I thought it was interesting, that one small book, takes three years to produce.

Year 2

Yesterday the school went on a trip to Corndale for Byron writer's festival. We met with the author of 'Errol', 'Mum for Sale' and 'Archie the bear'. She told us her book Errol, which has 50 words, took 3 and a half years to get published and put on shelves. We did some writing activities and learnt how to create a character that is interesting and engaging.
